

Lab Link business concept

Development of the health maintenance unification business model ... Offer in lifestyle whole for new value and faith

Development of the health maintenance business depending on physiology characteristics of human being

For business and study about maintenance of health , we build common social network

Researchers and experts in network study physiology characteristics of human being and help business about maintenance of health with each other.

- * Expert and researcher who are parted in the specialized domains talk with each other from stage of idea and they get new idea and information with each other.
- * Creation of added value and trust links to reduce risk.
- * The frontiers of new information and new idea lead to evolution of study and skill .
- * This concept can propose it by social network system in Web site and the reality society.

Elucidation of physiology characteristics and physiologic pleasant feeling of human being are reflected to lifestyle

- * While using Holistic approach, much researcher of every domains elucidate about physiology characteristics. They also research physiologic pleasant feeling of human being, and it is proposed to company and people.
- * The participation company gives service and article as follows. This is concerning with lifestyle that human being is harmonized with nature.

Suggestion of the new value and faith

Lab Link network offers experience-based participation type article and service.

These is adapted to the development and structure of the self-consciousness and psychophysical process.

- * We utilize sub consciousness marketing for the development and structure of self.
- * We utilize psychophysical marketing for psychophysical process between mind and body.
- * We utilize holistic marketing for process of long term in system for long term.